AMUSU THEATER NOW IN HANDSOME NEW HOME.

Jim Thompson's Amusu Theater is now at home in the handsome new quarters on South Main street, just completed during the week. The place was designed with an eye to comfort and convenience, and Mr. Thompson invites his patrons to call and be shown through the place at their leisure hours.

HOLLAND BROTHERS HAVE HANDSOME DRUG STORE.

The handsome new drug store of Messrs. Holland Brothers, opened last week on South Main street, is one of the beauty spots of Statesboro. When the glass front in put in and all the interior finishings installed, the store will compare with any to be seen in the city.

SUBURBAN LAND SELLS AT RECORD HIGH PRICE.

Seven hundred dollars for two hundred acres of land outside the city of Statesboro is the record high price for country property, so far as we are aware. This price was paid Tuesday for the tract belonging to the Virginia Gold estate on the road to Dover just half a mile from the city limits, and was paid by C. T. McLemore, who owns the adjoining tract.

The bidding on the little tract was lively from the start. It began at $200 and steadily climbed upward till it reached $700.

ALL SOFT DRINKS MAKE ADVANCE OF TWO CENTS.

Soft drinks, both bottled and at fountain, have advanced two cents during the past week, and the universal price now is 7 cents and war tax.

While there is some little criticism on the part of patrons, the reason for the advance is apparent. Not only has sugar advanced to the highest point ever known, but every ingredient entering into the making of drinks, including extracts and syrups, is higher than ever. It may be that some patrons will cut out their daily "dope" for awhile, but it is reasonable that they should expect to pay an increased price for that as well as for everything else.

PENSIONS RECEIVED FOR BULLOCH COUNTY VETERANS.

Judge Moore authorizes the announcement that pension funds for Bulloch county beneficiaries have been received and are now ready for delivery to those who have not already received them.

In this connection it has been quite a disappointment to many of the old soldiers that the last legislature failed to provide funds for the payment of benefits to all new pensioners under the provisions of a late constitutional amendment. This amendment removed the $1,500 property limit and provided for all Confederate soldiers to become pensioners. The legislature failed to pass the necessary financial measure, and the funds were not made available to pay the pensions thus provided. It is expected that the matter will be remedied at the next session of the legislature.

YOUR ATTENTION, PLEASE.

A Foley Cathartic Tablet is a prompt and safe remedy for sick headache, biliousness, bloating, sour stomach, gas, bad breath, indigestion, constipation, or other condition caused by clogged or irregular bowels. It comes with a strong bunch of players, backed by a lot of "pep," and a hard fight is expected. When two teams battle for a 2-2 score on a wet field and fight nine innings for only one run, then something is doing. This is just what the Agencies have done and it was this run the second game. The opposition was furnished by the A. R. C. team—the same which proved so worthy for the G. M. C. nine.

Come out folks and see the game Saturday.

PALMER ENTITLED TO A SOLID DELEGATION

SUB-COMMITTEE OF STATE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE STANDS BY PRIMARY RULES.

Atlanta, May 11.—Judge Walker's injunction order did not accomplish what Ben M. Blackburn told the sub-committee of the state executive committee Mr. Watson intended it should. Though the subcommittee took cognizance of and gave respect to the injunction order, it determined it had no bearing upon its action. Therefore, going straight ahead, it announced ready to hear contests, dismissed all contests brought by both Watson and Smith for lack of prosecution, dismissed the DeLoach county contest by Palmerites for the same reason, and threw out the Grady county vote because of proven irregularities of gross nature.

Finally, shortly before 5 o'clock this afternoon, the committee adjourned after adopting a resolution announcing the preferential primary result and declaring a. M. G. Palmer entitled to the solid delegation from this state to the national convention in San Francisco.

Thus Mr. Watson's process by injunction to dominate the national political situation in Georgia has resulted in a complete and absolute fiasco.

The resolution adopted by the subcommittee, upon conclusion of the contests, was signed by all members except Chairman J. J. Flynn, who declined to vote on it.

FALSE FIRE ALARM DISTURBS SLEEPERS

The automatic fire alarm system recently installed at the old cotton warehouse, now the property of the Brooks Simmons Company, is all right, we should say. That is, it will alarm all right enough. In fact, it will do almost everything useful except to drag a fireman out of his warm bed and carry him by force to a fire. It might even do that on a test.

We say this much because of a full test of the machine a few nights ago. The automatic is set to go off when A. B. Lovett, Sylvania, Ga.

There will be a call meeting at W. O. W. hall on next Wednesday night, May 19th, at 8:30 o'clock. Sov. A. Burch, of Dublin, Ga., who is well informed and a forceful speaker and lawyer, will show the contrast between old line and fraternal insurance.

All members as well as the general public are invited to come out and hear Sov. Burch. We feel sure that you will enjoy the evening and address of this company's able speaker. Come one, come all.

COTTON MEN URGE REFORMS IN LAWS

MACHINERY FOR MARKETING AND WAREHOUSING STAPLE SHOULD BE IMPROVED.

Atlanta, May 11.—Officers and members of the American Cotton Association, both at the national headquarters in Atlanta and at the various state branches in the cotton growing sections, have taken steps for securing the co-operation of the United States agricultural departments and its extension forces, it was announced here today.

If these arrangements, it is stated, will result in increased benefits to the entire commercial and cotton producing industry of the country.

According to the Cotton Association officials, the agricultural department at Washington is not only intensely interested in the economic reforms for which the association is working, but is already co-operating as far as possible, but this work will be materially extended as the various states avail themselves of its services.

The passage of constructive legislation placing the machinery of marketing, warehousing and financing of the American cotton crop, in the hands of the producer will also be urged by the cotton associations in the various states, it is stated by national officials here.

Special legislation is desired for the purpose of placing the cotton producer on equal terms with the lawyer of cotton in the market places.

South Carolina lawmakers, upon the request of the cotton association in that state, passed an act creating a warehouse board, with the state warehouse commissioner as chairman.

The warehouse act itself has been in operation for many years and has proved highly satisfactory. Under the new act the warehouse board is given the power to finance sales of cotton both foreign and domestic.

It is stated by cotton association officials that the enactment of legislation similar to that in South Carolina into the statutes of every cotton growing state, following the organization of the American Cotton Association, will practically revolutionize the cotton industry.

FOR SALE—I am offering all my gin interests for sale. Will give some one a bargain. See me if interested. E. A. SMITH, Statesboro, Ga. (13may4tp)

TYBEE
"Where Ocean Breezes Blow."

Tybee, the largest and most complete dance pavilion and bath houses on the Atlantic coast, owned and operated by the Central of Georgia Railway, will open for the season on Saturday, May 15th. The dancing area has been enlarged and Jacobson's orchestra will furnish music. The dance pavilion, soda fountain, clear stand, marcel check room, lunch counter, picnic pavilion, bath houses, etc., have been repainted and put in first class condition. The South Atlantic coast. Mr. R. G. Burge, who managed the Tybee for so successfully for the past two seasons, will be in charge.

Hotel Tybee will be under the management of Captain Edgar L. Hinton, who has for the past fifteen years been manager of the famous Seashore Hotel at Wicahitchee Beach. For the past two months Mr. Hinton has had a large force of employees busy engaged in painting, renovating and enlarging the property. The grounds have been beautified and beds between the hotel and the railway station will be run in the American plan and will open for business on May 20th. Mr. Hinton announces that he will have with him at Tybee a number of his old employees who have served under him efficiently for many years, which should assure guests at the hotel service equal to and unsurpassed by any other hotel on the coast.

The electric plant has been overhauled and enlarged and ample electricity will be obtained for all users on the island at very reasonable rates.

The ice refrigerating plants are in excellent condition for this season's business, and residents of Tybee will be sold what ice is not consumed by the hotels at city rates.

The laundry has been thoroughly overhauled and renovated and new machinery purchased, which will amply take care not only of the hotel laundry but of the great quantities of clothing, if desired, at prices corresponding with the cost in the city.

Hotel Tybee is looking forward to being the most successful season in its history and the management promises to give service that will bring many new patrons to the resort.

NEXT GREAT WAR TO BE FOUGHT IN THE AIR

New York, May 11.—The first battle of the next war will be fought in the air, Brigadier General William Mitchell, chief of the division of training and operations, army air service, declared in a statement here today, in which he visualized a decisive aerial conflict. The battle, he added, would also be the last one of the war because the losing nation would be helpless and unable to continue hostilities after its air fleet has been conquered.

The air service chief predicted that aviation will "completely drive" huge battle cruisers, battleships and other surface ships off the water in the next conflict. "A great air force can outstrip surface craft incapable of operating and stop debarcation from ships and attacks on shore establishments," he said.

Brigadier General Mitchell in his visualization of the great air struggle of the future described vividly the part he believes giant gun-bearing battle planes, bombers, rigid dirigible balloons and armored aircraft of various designs will play in the next war.

With the beginning of the war, he pictures a huge fleet of dirigible balloons soaring high over the ocean and airplanes, are launched, locate the enemy fleet and return with the information. The chief air officer, working in contact with the army and navy, sends his air force against the enemy.

The American fighting planes drive from the sky the enemy pursuit and combat planes launched from the decks of the enemy battleships.

"Then comes the main attack by fleet," says General Mitchell. "The battleplanes are in squadrons of 25 and four of these constitute an attack group, circling over the enemy fleet, they maintain a heavy fire, destroying personnel and anti-aircraft equipment."

"With the gun-bearing planes or bombers, huge air freighters carrying projectiles weighing up to one ton and depth bombs for effect against submarines. Waters torpedoes controlled by wireless crash into the sides of hostile vessels sinking the smaller ones and damaging the larger."

"Darkness comes and when visibility from the ships has become poor, huge rigid dirigible balloons carrying tons of enormous weight join the attack, their projectiles crashing through the heaviest armor of the enemy ships."

As the navy comes up to complete the work done by the aerial forces the battle is over. The enemy, driven from the air and with most of its ships sunk or out of action, surrenders. The battle has been the victory of the well known goods. Save your orders for me.

SAFETY OF OUR 6 PER CENT LOAN CERTIFICATE

Arthur Brisbane in the Sunday American, says: "There has never been since the world began a country more secure for holders of property than the United States."

Of all property, the most stable, the most secure, is real estate. It is tangible and can be seen, no manipulations can make it fade away. It may have periods of depression, but the general trend is upward. Real estate in a growing city becomes more valuable each year. Wars may come and wars may go, but your real estate will never be annihilated.

If the real estate is safe, the first mortgage is safer, for it does not represent the full value of the real estate, yet controls, dominates and owns it. But, a first mortgage on real estate is not as liquid as a Certificate issued against it, in denominations available to the small investor.

Our Six Per Cent Certificate of Loan are the ideal investment on account of their safety, quick convertibility into cash, without going on the market to sell. There is no loss, or discount of their value, nor is there a day's loss of interest. There are no coupons to cut, no government forms to fill in, interest being sent to your door by mail quarterly.

Let us tell you more about them. Sold all over the United States in denominations of $100.00 and up. Nearly $1,000,000.00 worth sold.

"SEEN" THINGS.

The story carried from Georgia to Washington and back again, to the effect that Hoke Smith and Tom Watson have agreed that Smith shall surrender to Watson enough of his county delegates to give Watson a plurality over Palmer, so that Watson may be entitled to the delegation to the national convention, is certainly interesting reading.

It is scarcely more than that. It does not seem real, and we cannot bring ourselves to look at it in any serious light.

Hoke Smith surrender to Watson through desperation at defeat? It is not in accord with our opinion of the man. He has always been a Democrat and has shared the highest honors possible at the hands of Georgia Democracy. He has been forced to win and hold those honors in combat with Tom Watson, and in doing so has borne the vilest odium with which a foul nature was capable of befouling him. Watson has not fought him openly and honorably, on issues that men might dispute on, but has left no opportunity to besmirch his personal character as a man. And now they tell us that Hoke Smith is ready to line up his supporters in Georgia and deliver them over to Watson. We ask, has he so far forgotten his ownhood? Would he sell himself at so great a sacrifice? It is not believable. We cannot but think that the gobs have been walking round that somebody has been "seeing" it.

Just how, we cannot imagine, but in our fancy there is the thought that when the coming state convention is ended, the Hoke Smith and Palmer factions will be the two factions that are closest together. They ought to be. They are Democrats who are interested in party solidarity are higher than personal spleen. They are the men who have stood together against outside enemies in years gone by, and who are proud of the things they have been able to accomplish through their party. Their recent division was not embittered by personalities, but was rather a question of issues than of men. There is no call for them to destroy the party because of disagreements upon issues. It is no great sacrifice for them to get together upon common grounds and prepare for future battles, which are sure to come.

Do not tell us that Hoke Smith is going to tear down the pillars of his temple, as billed Sampson did in his rage, that he may have vengeance upon his own compatriots who have refused to follow him in his recent little divergence from his party. We believe of him that reason still controls, and when that time for action comes the Hoke Smith, people and the Palmer people of Georgia will be one people as they ought to be.

HAVE YOU DONE YOUR PART?

This week the Salvation Army is making a direct appeal to the people of Statesboro and Bulloch county. Have you done your part and sent in your contribution to this worthy cause? Some of the reasons why you should:

The Salvation Army is on the job 24 hours daily.

The Army lassies ask no question except, "Won't you let me help you?"

Is it a human being in pain, in distress? That's all the Salvation Army lassies ask. She cares naught for creed, color or country. To the Salvation Army there is little difference between the mud of Flanders and the slime of the city gutters.

All you contribute goes direct to alleviate suffering and help those who can't help themselves. Not an officer in the Salvation Army receives salary enough to pay an income tax. They give service. Commander Booth, the highest ranking Salvationist in the United States received less than $1,000 in salary in 1919.

The Salvation Army is now appealing direct to you between May 10th and 20th for your aid in carrying out the work of feeding and clothing the poor, mothering the orphan, lifting the fallen, rescuing the wayward and finding jobs for those who are unable to find work for themselves.

Some of the things your dollar will do:

$1 will support a neglected child

for one day in a Salvation Army children's home.

$2 will supply food for a family of four for one day.

$3 will supply an infant with milk for ten days.

$5 will provide luncheon for 25 children of working mothers in a day nursery.

$7 will give a mother a week's vacation in the country.

$10 will buy a day in the country for 25 alum children.

$20 will keep a poverty-stricken family in ice during the summer.

$50 will give a two-weeks' vacation to an over-worked mother and two sickly children in a fresh air camp.

$100 will take care of an old woman for four months in a hotel for women.

Hand or mail your contribution to Walter M. Johnson, Treasurer, First National Bank, Statesboro, or to the undersigned. Do not wait until after the 20th. Do it now.

Yours for a great work,

WESLEY CONE.

INTERESTING TELEPHONE

HISTORY IS RECALLED

"SCIENTIFIC TOY" HAS GROWN TO HIGH RANK IN WORLD OF COMMERCE.

The recent death of Theodore N. Vail, president of the Bell Telephone system, says a writer in Transmitter, recalls many interesting facts concerning the invention, development and history of the telephone, which has within the comparatively short space of forty years become such a vital factor in our every day life that there cannot possibly be a substitute for the service it performs.

Bell invented the telephone in 1876, but he made slow progress with the commercial development of his wonderful electrical device until the then young Vail, at that time head of the transportation system of the Post-office department, became willing, as he himself expressed it, "to leave a government job with a small salary for a telephone job with no salary," and was made the business manager for the telephone.

In the fall of 1877 there were but 277 telephones in operation in all the world. The instrument was being ridiculed as a "scientific toy," very much as a plaything, but of no use for practical purposes. Newspapers even laughed at it editorially. The Boston Times said in banner: "A fellow can now count his girl in China as well as in East Boston; but the most serious aspect of this invention is the awful and irresponsible power it gives to the average mother-in-law, who will be able to send her voice around the habitable globe."

The first long distance use of the telephone was between New York and Boston, when a telephone wire was borrowed for half an hour and a tune sent over the wire by telephone.

The first sustained conversation was between New York and Cambridge Bridge Observatory when telephones were connected with telegraph wires, and, for three hours, in October, 1876, a conversation was carried on. The result became the wonder of the country—even of the world.

The progress and development of the telephone from 1877 to 1917—the date of the last government census of the wire companies—has been marvelous. During these forty years the telephone grew in number in the United States alone, from 877 to almost twelve million. Hardly a farm house in the country but is connected on a "rural line"; six families out of ten in the country have telephones.

The government census for 1917 enumerated some 63,000 separate telephone companies or systems in the United States, although telephone people state that the great majority of these are simply rural or mutual "farmers' line" systems, there being, they state, about 11,000 separate commercial telephone companies in the country.

The systems are naturally not all operated by the companies growing out of the original Bell concern; the majority of them are "independent" companies that grew up after the expiration of the original Bell patents. These independent companies operate about four and a half million of the total number of telephones in the country, according to statistics, although many of them connect with the Bell system, which itself operates 145 separate companies.

The telephone business in 1917 employed about 270,000 people, of whom around 170,000 were women. More than two billions of dollars are invested in it, by thousands of citizens of the United States.

The government census figures the number of local "talks" during 1917 at about 22 billions—an average of 63 million talks for every day in the year.

The telephone systems in the United States should normally grow at the rate of about 750,000 new or added telephones a year," says the writer in Transmitter, "but this development was greatly retarded during the war by restrictions on use of material, and shortage and high price of manual labor, combined with the fact that the rate allowed for the service were in many cases utterly inadequate to allow for extension of the plants, or to make them even moderately profitable.

"How soon the normal rate of increase will be resumed depends principally upon the action of regulatory bodies in allowing, and the public in being willing to pay, adequate rates for telephone service. The outlook is much brighter now, though, that it was a year ago; rate-making bodies are rapidly meeting the issue by allowing necessary increases in charges, and the public is becoming more tolerant of the situation, since it has learned that the price of telephone service, like any other commodity, must be based upon the cost of manufacture—and that is higher now than ever before."

Judge E. D. Holland left Tuesday to attend the Confederate veterans' reunion. He went through in his car and stated that he may go on the May for a visit with his son, Mr. J. W. Holland, before he returns.

Heat for Alaska.

The Pacific has its own "Gulf stream," which is called the Japan current, and it is formed in the same way.

The trade winds, blowing from the tropics, bank up the warm ocean waters in the Yellow sea (corresponding to our Gulf of Mexico), and thence they pour out between Japan and Formosa, the stream thus formed passing south of the Aleutian chain, along the southern coast of Alaska, and down the west coast of North America.

Hence it comes about that the whole southern coast of Alaska has a temperate climate. It is warmed by the Japan current.

What Really Keeps Time.

As a measure of time the pendulum ranks today as the most perfect of our instruments, says the Scientific American. It is the part of a clock that keeps time. All the rest of the mechanism is simply for the purpose of keeping up its vibration or to point out a dial the number of vibrations it has made. It swings back and forth in a complete arc 30 times each minute, but allows the escapement to move a cog at each vibration, thus checking off on the dial, by means of the second hand, 30 seconds of time. In a similar way, minutes and hours are recorded, and by a like process a watch is guided.

Tranquillity Overdone.

"So you slept for twenty years!"

"Yes," replied Rip Van Winkle; "and I'm compelled to admit that when a man tries to conquer 'maur' there is danger of his going too far."

A SUBSTITUTE BILL

FOR SOLDIERS' RELIEF

MEASURE WILL PAY $1 A DAY FOR DOMESTIC SERVICE, AND $1.25 FOR FOREIGN.

Washington, May 10.—Republican members of the House have today brought in a substitute for the soldier bonus bill with the proposal for a 1 per cent tax on sales eliminated as a means of raising the necessary funds. Other tax provisions of the bill would be extended over three years under the agreement.

Under the new bill compensation for home service is reduced from $1.25 to $1 for each day of service while payments for foreign service remain at $1.25 a day. Payments would be made for service from April 6, 1917, to January 1, 1919, under the new bill, instead of from April 6, 1917, to January 1, 1920, as under the pending measure.

Payments of the cash bonus would begin April 1, 1921, and be continued in twelve quarterly installments. The four options for the cash bonus, home or farm aid, paid up insurance and tuition for education, would have a forty per cent increase in value over the cash bonus; under the substitute measure, instead of being paid on a basis of $1.75 a day for each day of service.

The plan of reclamation of land so as to provide farms was changed in the substitute bill to eliminate the $1,000 loan and also to reduce the authorization for carrying out the scheme from $300,000,000 to $250,000,000.

The Republicans estimated that approximately $400,000,000 in the cost of the original measure has been eliminated and that the remodeled bill would call for a total expenditure of $1,400,000,000. Taxes levied by the bill would become effective next December and would include the increase on incomes, tobacco and real estate sales and a new levy on stock and grain exchange transactions.

Chairman Farnsworth of the committee said tonight that the new bill would remove much of the opposition in Republican ranks.

FARMERS' SELLING CATTLE BECAUSE OF DIPPING LAW

Abundant evidences are at hand that the new dipping law is ridding Bulloch county of the pestiferous cattle tick at a rapid rate. Incidentally, the cattle are going with the ticks.

At the present rate it is only a question of time, apparently, when there will be neither ticks nor cattle.

It is said that the quarantine census recently disclosed that there were more than 25,000 cattle dipped in the county the first round. Numbers of farmers with large herds have since sold out most of their animals, and they are being shipped away in large numbers as "grazers." One farmer with a hundred last week sold eighty-five. Many others are keeping only a few on their farms.

If it's screening work you want done, see or write us. We will screen your house, BURKE & STRICKLAND, Claxton, Ga. (22-29apr20-27may)
